

Beekeeping Introduction Day

Saturday 14th November Edge Hill
University, St Helens Road, Ormskirk,
Lancs 10.00am – 4.00pm

You have heard about the decline in bees in the media and wonder whether you might like to keep bees – or simply want to learn a little more about these fascinating insects. If so this day long introduction to bees and beekeeping is for you.

This taster day will feature

- Lectures by Martin Smith Chairman of the British Beekeepers Association on
 - Honey bees, bumble bees and wasps
 - The cost & time involved in beekeeping
 - The life cycles of queen, worker and drone bees
 - Where can I keep bees?
- Talks by Barbara Roderick, President & Education Officer of Lancashire & North West Beekeepers association on
 - Local beekeeping groups in the area
 - Support for new beekeepers
 - How new beekeepers actually get bees to get started

In addition examples of hives and equipment will be on display and people who have recently taken up beekeeping will be on hand to talk to interested people.

Cost £50.00 per person, including lunch and morning/afternoon refreshments.

Numbers are limited, so registration in advance is essential. Please use the enclosed booking form below or telephone Penny Oakley on 08445 867441 to book a place.

Lancashire and North West Beekeepers Association

Affiliated to the BBKA - Registered Charity No. 506167

Beekeeping Introduction Day – Booking Form

The Beekeeping Introduction Day is taking place at Edge Hill University on Saturday 14 November 2009.

If you would like to attend please complete and return the reply slip below and include your payment by 26 October 2009 to reserve your place(s).

Many thanks
Penny Oakley

Tel 08445 867841
Fax 0871 264 2447
Email ormskirk.secretary@lancashirebeekeepers.org.uk

I / we would like to attend on 14 November 2009. I enclose a cheque made payable to Lancashire and North West Beekeepers' Association for £50 per person.

Name:

Name:

Phone:.....

Phone:.....

Email:

Email:.....

Please return to: Penny Oakley
82 St Helens Road
Ormskirk
Lancashire
L39 4QT